With a three-year growth rate of 94%, Altvia continues to successfully position itself in this prestigious ranking. "We are delighted with this recognition on the Inc. 5000 list for the fourth year in a row and applaud our team, customers, and partners for helping to make this happen. This comes at a time when Altvia is making important investments into our core business as we continue to scale for growth, which is driven by our deep customer focus and product innovation to solve key market problems for private equity firms," comments Kevin Kelly, CEO and Founder of Altvia.

The next round of innovation comes in the form of a powerful analytics solution and the expansion of ShareSecure, the company's private equity LP portal that provides an engagement platform for the GP-LP relationship. This innovation comes on the heels of a recent announcement featuring a new user interface for AIM, Altvia's private equity software solution that enables GPs and LPs to consolidate and integrate data from disparate systems into a central platform to gain new insights for better decisions. "Data is the key to differentiation in the private equity market and so our product innovation is focused on solutions to help firms more easily leverage their data and relationships towards this strategic position," shares Altvia's Vice President of Products Jeff Williams. "We envision this focus to be an integral part of our company's future growth."
